BEFORE YOU GO ...

Introduction

The preparations you need to make before your trip to Vietnam will depend on the destination, length and purpose of your stay. Whether you are travelling for business, work, leisure or study, a good knowledge of travel requirements such as travel documents, visas, customs, currency regulations, immunisation and tickets will better prepare you and help to avoid unnecessary difficulties.

Travel insurance

Medical services overseas can be expensive, and pre-payment is sometimes required. Therefore, obtaining comprehensive personal travel insurance prior to your trip to Vietnam is highly encouraged, especially when CPF-Medisave cannot be used for medical services outside Singapore.

Many insurance companies offer travel insurance for unforeseen circumstances such as flight delays, trip cancellation, lost or damaged baggage, accidents, hospitalisation, medical evacuation and repatriation. Ensure that the insurance policies you sign up for satisfy your requirements.

Travel Documents

Passports: Ensure you have a valid passport throughout your stay in Vietnam. This means that they have to be valid for at least 6 months from the date of entry into Vietnam. Ensure that the validity of your passport covers until your return date to Singapore. Babies are also required to have valid travel documents.

Ensure that your passport is in good condition (e.g. lamination intact, pages are not torn or missing). Vietnam's immigration officials may deny you entry if a passport is in bad condition and appears to have been tampered with, and the traveller may be asked to return to Singapore immediately.

Try not to keep your passport and identity card (IC) in the same place when you travel. This minimises the risk of losing all identification documents, which may delay the verification of your identity in the event that you lose both documents.

Keep a photocopy of both your passport's personal particulars page and your IC with you all the time as proof of your citizenship, in case your actual documents are lost, stolen or misplaced. It is advisable to keep the photocopies separate from your actual documents.

Loss of Passport: If your Singapore passport is lost or stolen when you are in Vietnam, do:

- Make a police report immediately at the nearest local police station. If you are unable to obtain a local police report, you will be required to execute a Statutory Declaration at the Embassy or Consulate-General to explain the loss.
- Bring the police report, a passport-sized photograph and documentary proof of your citizenship (e.g copy of your NRIC, driving license, etc.) to the Singapore Embassy in Hanoi or Consulate-General in HCMC to obtain a Document of Identity (DOI). A fee will be imposed for the issuance of the DOI.

The DOI can only be used to facilitate your return to Singapore either directly or through transiting in another country. It cannot be used for onward travel to a third country. Apart from the DOI, you will also need to apply for an exit visa at the Vietnam Immigration Department (add: No 44-46 Tran Phu, Ba Dinh, Hanoi or 333-335-337 Nguyen Trai, District 1, Ho Chi Minh City), open on weekdays from 7:30 am to 4:30 pm. This process will take about 5 working days.

When you return to Singapore, you will have to surrender the DOI to the Immigration and Checkpoints Authority (ICA) and apply for a new passport.

Application of new Passport:

Online Application

Please note that you may apply to renew your passport via the ICA website within nine months of your passport expiry date, or earlier if your existing passport is running out of blank pages. You may wish to submit your passport application online via <https://eservices.ica.gov.sg/esvclandingpage/apples> using your SingPass account. The processing time usually takes about 6 weeks.

Hardcopy Application

If you are unable to submit your application online, you may submit the hardcopy application at our office. If all the required documents are submitted and the application is accepted by ICA, the processing time is about 7-8 weeks. Our office will need to see the original passport and return it to the applicant at the point of submission. Hence, you may still use your current valid passport until the new passport has been issued to you.

In addition, please note that you are required to appear in-person during the submission at our office. The list of required documents is as follows:

- a) A duly filled Passport Application Form (can be downloaded from https://www.ica.gov.sg/docs/default-source/ica/forms/forms_form_imme_11_os.pdf);
- b) A recent (taken within the last three months) coloured passport-sized photograph of applicant, with full frontal view, matt or semi-matt finish and taken against a white background. The photo should be sharp and clear, 35mm wide x 45mm high without border;
- c) Your original Singapore passport and NRIC; and,
- d) Your original Vietnam Temporary Residence Card/Visa/Stay Permit.

Kindly be informed that from 1 October 2021, Singapore passports issued for citizens aged 16 and above are valid for 10 years. Upon collection of the new passport, we will cancel the old passport and return it to you. The new passport number will be different from the old one. If you have a stay visa/ permit tied to the old passport, you will need to get it transferred to the new passport at the local immigration office. If you have a Work Permit and/or Temporary Residence Card, you must renew these documents with the new passport number.

The transfer processing period (visa/permit/residence card) is about 4 weeks, so please transfer/renew early. If you plan to leave Vietnam urgently while your visa/permit/residence card is being processed, you would need to apply for an Exit Permit from the Vietnam Immigration Department in Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City.

Children born in Vietnam

Children born in Vietnam who would like to exit Vietnam for the first time must possess a valid Vietnam visa/stay permit/residence card. If the minor has a Singapore passport, you may wish to apply for an Exit Permit for him/her from the Vietnamese Immigration Department. As far as we are aware, flight tickets are required at the submission, and this may take a couple of working days for the Exit permit issuance. Please note that the validity of the exit permit will be based on the departure date on the flight tickets so the minor should depart Vietnam before its expiration date.

We seek your understanding that final decisions on border controls and regulations are under the jurisdiction of Vietnam authorities and the Immigration Department. Hence, it is advisable for you to check with Vietnam Immigration Department should you need further advice or explanation. Their contact details are appended for your reference.

Visas

As of August 2022, most Singaporean visitors to Vietnam are not required to apply for a visa, unless they are staying for more than 30 days.

Permission to enter at the point of entry is the sole prerogative of the host country. Regardless of whether you need a visa and even if you had been issued one, you must be prepared to prove, upon your arrival at the destination, that you:

- Have sufficient funds to support yourself during your intended stay;
- Have the necessary travel documents (e.g. passport and valid visa) for admission to the next country in your itinerary; and
- Have onward/return transportation tickets.

To avoid possible inconvenience or even deportation at the point of entry, consult the Vietnamese Embassy in Singapore about immigration regulations before your departure if necessary. They can advise you about visa, entry and exit regulations, health certification and other requirements.

Exit Permits and Notification of Overseas Trips

Money & Currencies

Personal Funds: While you should ensure that you have sufficient funds for the duration of your stay in Vietnam and may be asked to show evidence of financial sufficiency before you are allowed entry into the country, do not carry too much cash. According to the State Bank of Vietnam (SBV), foreigners are allowed to bring into/out of Vietnam of up to USD 5,000 or equivalent. Specific paperwork and approval are required before you are allowed to bring in currency beyond this amount into the country. Do check with SBV (<http://www.sbv.gov.vn>) for the updated requirements.

In an emergency, you can arrange for funds to be remitted to you by your family or friends through a bank. Emergency funds can also be remitted to you via the Singapore Embassy in Hanoi or Consulate-General in HCMC if your family or friends deposit funds with the Singapore Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Consular Directorate.

Credit Cards: While Vietnam remains a largely cash-based society, Visa/Mastercard may be accepted at reputable hotels and restaurants.

Money Exchange: Avoid changing money with illegal moneychangers who tempt tourists with attractive exchange rates. You may be short-changed, or given counterfeit currency. Engaging in illegal transactions also increases the risk of prosecution.

Non-compliance with local regulations or discrepancies between what is declared and what is found with you could result in detention, confiscation of your funds and imposition of fines.

Health

Health and medical considerations in Vietnam may differ from those in Singapore.

Check on any outstanding health concerns reported in the places you are visiting, and take necessary precautions such as obtaining vaccinations or carrying appropriate medication to protect yourself and your family.

Bring along any prescription medication that you may require during your trip to Vietnam.

Certain medicines may be considered controlled drugs in Vietnam. It is illegal to bring such substances without prior permission and you may be detained at customs for doing so. Check if the regulations governing imports of controlled drugs apply to you. If need be, you should obtain prior approval and carry a copy of your doctor's prescription with you.

Registration

You are strongly encouraged to register online with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs via the e-Register system at <https://eregister.mfa.gov.sg>.

Registering online will ensure the Singapore Embassy in Hanoi and Singapore Consulate-General in HCMC can contact you to provide consular assistance in emergency situations, such as natural disasters or civil unrest.

Remember to update your records in e-Register, if there are subsequent changes to your address / contact number / departure and/or return dates.

Consular Travel Advice from Vietnam

Find out about your destination from experienced travellers, travel agents, tourist information offices and airlines on matters such as local customs, hotel accommodation, access to medical services, international communications and transportation network in Vietnam.

Prepare a proper itinerary. Plan your trip/route well in advance.

Leave your itinerary (including names, addresses and contact numbers of persons, hotels and places to be visited) with your family or friends in Singapore so that you can be reached in an emergency.

Monitor daily news media for reports of unrest or bad weather.

Make a photocopy of your personal passport (particulars page), IC, credit cards, travellers' cheque numbers and keep them separate from your passport and credit cards as you may need to refer to them in the event the originals are lost or stolen. It is advisable to leave photocopies of such documents with family members or friends back home as a contingency.

Call home regularly and inform your family of any changes in your itinerary and the length of your stay in the country.

Checklist

- Purchase comprehensive travel and medical insurance to cover overseas hospitalisation and medical evacuation costs
- Ensure passport has at least 6 months' validity
- Have confirmed onward/return ticket
- Check visa requirements for entry and obtain visa, if needed
- Check on health and vaccination requirements. If your personal medication is a controlled drug, carry a copy of your doctor's prescription.
- Bring sufficient funds
- Obtain vital information pertaining to the country and places you may visit in the country
- Make photocopies of passport (identification page), Identity Card (IC), credit cards and travellers' cheque number (if any)
- Obtain address and contact numbers of Singapore Embassy in Hanoi and Consulate-General in HCMC
- Leave a copy of your itinerary with your family/friends and inform them of where you are going and how to contact you
- E-Register with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs

WHEN YOU ARE HERE ...

Consular Assistance

In an emergency, you can contact the Singapore Embassy in Hanoi at duty handphone number +84-90-469-6589 or Consulate-General in HCMC at duty handphone number +84-90-311-3500.

The Singapore Embassy in Hanoi and Consulate-General in HCMC serve to protect the interests of Singapore citizens abroad. However, there are limitations to the services and assistance we can provide.

What our Embassy/Consulate-General can do ...

We can issue you with an emergency travel document if you have lost your Singapore passport overseas. However, you must first report the loss to the local police and provide our Mission a copy of the police report.

We can contact your next-of-kin in the event of accidents, injury, arrests, or death.

We can contact your relatives or friends and request them to send you funds for any necessary emergency expenses.

We can help you during emergencies in Vietnam, such as natural disasters or civil unrest.

What our Embassy/Consulate-General cannot do ...

We cannot pay your medical, hospital, legal, accommodation and other bills/expense, provide loans or cash your cheques.

We cannot assist you to find a job, obtain work permit or residential permit in Vietnam.

We cannot act as your guarantor or sponsor for any purpose (e.g to apply for a visa).

We cannot intervene or act as intermediary in civil disputes.

We cannot provide translation, mail forwarding, telephone, fax/telex or other personal services.

Arrest and Detention

Singaporeans travelling overseas should remember that they are subject to the laws of the countries they visit. While we can assist Singaporeans who have been arrested or detained in Vietnam, we cannot intervene in the local judicial process. Long delays in Vietnam's judicial process are not uncommon.

If arrested or charged with an offence when you are in Vietnam, remain calm and cooperative. Request the authorities to inform the Singapore Embassy/Consulate-General or ask your relatives or friends to contact the Embassy/Consulate-General.

Consular assistance to a Singaporean under detention or imprisonment aims to ensure that the Singaporean is:

- Accorded fair and humane treatment in accordance with local laws.
- Given access to a Singapore Consular Officer, his lawyers and those who have a legitimate right to have access to him.
- Offered legal assistance which is in accordance with local laws.
- Not penalised, discriminated against or denied justice because of his nationality and not remanded pending trial for a protracted period.

What our Singapore Embassy/Consulate-General can do ...

Notify the family of the detention or arrest and provide details made available by the local authorities.

Obtain information about the status of the case.

Assist in obtaining information on the local judicial and prison systems.

Provide a list of local lawyers, if needed.

Assist in arranging a prison visit for the family.

Facilitate the transfer of funds to the detainee if other means are unavailable (only if such remittance is permitted by prison authorities).

Ensure that medical problems, if any, are brought to the attention of the prison authorities.

Take up any justified complaints about ill-treatment or alleged discrimination with the prison authorities.

Make arrangements for repatriation or deportation, after release.

What our Singapore Embassy/Consulate-General cannot do...

Seek preferential treatment for a Singaporean prisoner over what is provided for locals or other nationals.

Initiate court proceedings or represent Singapore citizens at trials.

Give legal advice or interpret local laws.

Pay legal expenses, fines or bail out a Singaporean.

Investigate a possible crime.

Recommend or select a specific lawyer.

Circumvent prison rules regarding what can or cannot be brought into or taken out of the prison.

Death of Singaporean

If your relative or friend passes away in Vietnam and you are with them, please contact the Singapore Embassy or Consulate-General for assistance. Make sure you have the following information of the deceased with you:

- Full name
- Date of birth
- Passport number
- Contact details of the next-of-kin of the deceased (if you are not the closest relative)

All deaths must be registered in the country where the death occurred.

Documents pertaining to the death of the deceased must be translated into English if they are in another language.

Our Consular Officers will keep in touch with the deceased's family and until the burial/cremation overseas or repatriation to Singapore of the deceased has been completed.

It is important to note that it may not always be possible to carry out the wishes of the next-of-kin, such as a request for cremation as such facilities may not be available in some places.

What our Singapore Embassy/Consulate-General can do...

Notify the next-of-kin of the incident.

Provide a list of local undertakers.

Advise on the cost of local burial/cremation and transportation of remains and personal property of the deceased to Singapore.

What our Singapore Embassy/Consulate-General cannot do...

Investigate the cause of death.

Make an insurance claim on behalf of the family of the deceased.

Pay for burial or cremation expenses.

Pay for the return of the deceased's remains to Singapore or any bills or debts that may be outstanding. In the absence of suitable medical / travel insurance, the next-of-kin or friends of the deceased are expected to cover these expenses.

Driving in Vietnam

Singaporeans in Vietnam who hold a long-term visa for employment or residence can apply for conversion from Singapore driving license to Vietnam driving license if they want to drive in Vietnam. The applicants can contact the Directorate for Roads of Vietnam (in Hanoi) or the Department of Transport (in HCMC) at the following addresses to obtain more information on the driving license conversion procedures.

Directorate for Roads of Vietnam

Ho Chi Minh City Department of Transport

Add: 252 Ly Chinh Thang, Ward 9, District 3, Ho Chi Minh City

Website: sgtvt.hochiminhcity.gov.vn

Email: sgtvt@tphcm.gov.vn

Tel: 84 28 3935 0551 - 84 28 3829 0451 - 84 28 38 222 777 - 84 901 615 899

Please ensure that you have purchased adequate insurance coverage for yourself, your passengers and the vehicle. Remember to read the small print on the car hire agreement before you sign it.

Drive carefully and defensively, as driving conditions and habits may be different from those in Singapore. Roads may not be familiar to you and conditions deceptive, especially during cold weather. Long-distance driving can lead to the hazard of driver fatigue. Do have adequate rest breaks and plan to have a co-driver if you are travelling with family/friends.

Other General Tips

Personal safety and security

- Avoid isolated and unfamiliar places or places with high incidence of crime;
- Do not carry too much cash or other valuables, especially expensive jewellery;
- In case of civil disturbances or unrest, exercise caution and prudence at all times and avoid large gatherings and demonstrations;
- Monitor media reports closely or check with the Embassy/Consulate-General on the situation. If the situation is deteriorating, you are advised to leave the destination as soon as possible;
- Take all necessary precautions to safeguard your passport, IC, other identification documents, travel tickets, money, travellers' cheques, credit cards and insurance documents. Try not to carry these items together. There is the risk of being left entirely without identification and funds in case of theft or loss.

Immigration

When you enter or depart the country, always check before leaving the Immigration Checkpoint to ensure that your passport is stamped. This ensures that you are not breaching the host country's immigration laws.

Do not pass immigration booths that are unattended.

Customs regulations

Be familiar with the local customs regulations. There are stringent requirements on the import of food and agricultural products. Travellers are required to declare items which come under the agricultural quarantine restrictions as stated on the customs forms at the point of entry. Failure to do so could result in the imposition of severe fines.

Illegal drugs and narcotics

Most countries impose severe penalties for possession or trafficking of even small amounts of illegal drugs. As in the case of Singapore, some countries also impose the death penalty for convicted drug traffickers.

Do not convey or transport any parcel, especially across a border, when asked by a stranger. Should such parcels contain illegal drugs, you risk being found guilty of possessing, smuggling or trafficking drugs. You should also never leave your belongings unattended or under the "care" of any stranger.

Sanitary and Health Conditions

- Take special precautions for your personal hygiene and well-being;
- Be careful with what you eat and drink;
- Consult a local doctor if you fall ill overseas and refrain from travelling until you are certified fit by the doctor;
- Avoid crowded areas and maintain good ventilation;

- If possible, avoid contact with birds and animals while overseas;
- Wash your hands regularly with soap and water.
